“You don’t have to know exactly how you’re going to get there, as much as knowing exactly where you want to go.” – Tom Flick

Larry is like a Swiss army knife. A well-rounded professional with over 20 years of financial leadership experience with several national companies, he possesses a variety of tools and the sharp insight needed to tackle a multitude of challenges. As a key part of our management team, Larry delivers insight on financial trends, opportunities, and risks to provide solutions that drive organizational growth. He believes a company’s success lies in the calibre of the team and invests time in people and their careers.

Larry is the person you want in your corner when faced with a difficult situation. He is thoughtful, even-keeel, and deliberate in his actions, which allows him to pinpoint areas of strategic value that will bring about change. In his personal life, he enjoys spending time outdoors – officiating for the Canadian Football League, running marathons, or heading off on another international hiking adventure with his wife.
